

Writing Practice - Correcting Mistakes

1. Read the text and try to find the 11 mistakes:

Watching my neighbor

One night, I looked out the window and I saw my neighbor. He was sit on an old chair with sunglasses on. That was strange because it was the whole of the night.

I thought to me: "What crazy man...". I didn't care and went back to bed.

In the next morning, I was leaving my house to go to work, and I saw Mr. John, my crazy neighbor, he was still sitting on the same old chair with his sunglasses on. I wondered if he had spent all night there. Well, to each his own.

Surprisingly, when I arrived home, I can't believe it, Mr. John was still there. I have never been a curious person, but that was unbelievable. How could somebody stand in the same position for so a long time?

I went to Mr. John's house, when I touched him, he was cold and suddenly he fell on the ground.

I screamed such loudly that the whole neighborhood heard. At the same time, Mrs. Mary appeared and called the ambulance and the police. They were fast and arrived fifteen minutes later.

Poor thing, Mr. John pass away due to a heart attack and he was dead for 2 days. He had lived alone, and he was a very reserved person, perhaps this is the reason nobody had missed him.
